

RURAL SCRAP COLLECTION IN COUNTY

"Many farmers in Santa Clara county have been wondering why a concerted effort has not been made to collect the scrap which is on their farms," said Harvey L. Hansen, administrative officer for the Santa Clara county USDA War board. The farmers are not being overlooked in the extremely important part of the war effort and Hansen announces the plans for collection of scrap metal and rubber.

The drive will be under the direction of the County Salvage committee of which E. O. Wool is chairman. The committee consists of representatives from all communities in the county and has met several times to discuss the problems involved in this wartime job. Its executive committee is headed by Arthur Curtner, the finance committee by Tim Sullivan, the zoning committee by Sewall Brown and the transportation committee by Walter Pfeifle.

It has been thought wise to use the school districts as the unit for scrap collection in the county. A member of the general committee will be named to supervise the collection in one or more school districts.

The county trucks have been offered to the committee for use in picking up the scrap metal from the farms.

The entire county cannot be handled at once, but five school districts will be picked out and those districts will be cleaned of scrap before proceeding to five other districts. It may, therefore, be a considerable time before all of the scrap is picked up but the job of the committee will be a continuous one from now until the end of the war.

The finance committee will be responsible for the funds which are derived from the sale of the scrap metal and for the division of funds to the worthy causes that will be selected by the Salvage committee.

The committee is particularly interested in donated materials but will also purchase materials that are offered.

The general plan is to have students locate the material on the farms, ask the farmer if he will donate or sell the scrap material, and report this back to the man in charge of the drive in the school. This information can then be recorded and the material picked up when the districts are designated as being ready for collection. In the cases where the material has been located through the student effort, a percentage of the proceeds will be given to the school district.

There will, of course be material that can be loaded by hand, but there will be other material that will have to be cut up and the County Salvage committee is prepared to use torches for this purpose.

The week of October 5 to 12, has been designated nationally by the United States Office of Education for a scrap drive on the part of school children. The children will be asked to bring into

HIGH SCHOOL PTA REPRESENTED AT MEETING MONDAY

Campbell High School P.T. A. was represented at the sixth district meeting, Oct. 5 by Mrs. Carl Field, president, Mrs. Harry Cousins, Mrs. Anthony Jurras, Mrs. Life Price, Mrs. Clarence Fagalde and Mrs. Frank Jacobson.

The group enjoyed a half hour of community singing under the able leadership of Mrs. Nancy Pauline Turner, state music chairman. Mrs. Turner also gave an inspiring talk on the benefits derived from community singing.

Mrs. G. W. Luhr, seventh vice president, spoke on "Health." She stressed proper nutrition for our growing children and especially for the adolescent. Mrs. Luhr urged all to take advantage of the many courses now available, emphasizing that the courses be put into use.

Mrs. Douglas Jones, president of the sixth district called upon the vice presidents to present their plans of work for the year.

Mrs. Carl Field reminds the executive board of the unit of the pot luck luncheon, Wednesday, Oct. 14.

Mrs. Clara Baldwin of Oakland was a Friday to Monday guest of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Whitney of Rincon avenue. Mrs. Baldwin has many friends in Campbell among the older residents, from the time she lived here.

The Sigma Sigma club will meet Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Robinson on Sunnyoaks avenue. Miss Barbara Davis will be the co-hostess. Red Cross sewing will be the project of the evening.

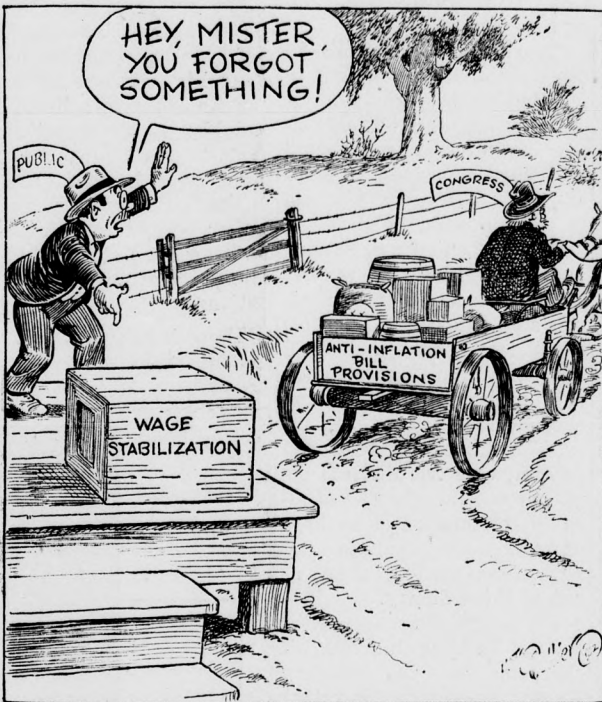

the schools only such pieces of scrap they can conveniently carry with them. The material will be brought to the school by the children and the Salvage committee has offered the use of its trucks for the disposal of this material. It is to be emphasized that this campaign is limited to one week, but the work of the County Salvage committee will be a continuous program.

The County Salvage committee will limit its operations to the rural areas and will not operate in cities where salvage committees are already functioning.

If the farmer prefers, he may donate material to the County Salvage committee by calling Mayfair 882, but in these instances no part of the proceeds will go to the school district.

The committee is not prepared at this time to undertake the collection of bottles, paper, fats, tins or galvanized iron. These will be collected later as directed by the government on determination of their needs.

AN IMPORTANT OMISSION

THREE FROM POST OFFICE IN SERVICE

Paul Farnham, substitute rural carrier and assistant to Dan Yeager of the Campbell post office, enlisted in the army air corps some time past, but was to remain in college until called. He expects to receive his summons almost any day now.

This will make the third enlistee from the local office, Al Carter having been the first to leave and Henry Sanfilippo second. Al is in the engineering corps and Henry will go to an officers training school.

Miss Martha Parr has been employed for some time as office assistant, and Rev. D. H. Baldwin has accepted an appeal to help out in the early morning.

Several interested citizens have been circulating petitions for extensions of the door to door delivery of rural mail on some of the roads in new tracts. If these additions are made to the route it would seemingly necessitate a division and employment of a second carrier.

The three sons of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert L. Taggart, all of whom are in the armed forces, have been visiting their parents. Ensign Irving Taggart of the naval air corps was on his way to Washington where he will be stationed. Pvt. Glenn Taggart is in San Francisco, and Lt. Donald Taggart who received his commission at Fort Benning, Ga., was visiting before leaving for Fort Selby, Miss.

St. Lucy's Women's club has a whist party scheduled for the afternoon of Friday, Oct. 30, to be held in the parish hall, South Third street. Playing will begin at 2:30 and a general invitation is extended. Mrs. Anna Fields, chairman, will have as her assistants, Mrs. Fred Smith and Mrs. Martin Walsh.

GRAMMAR PTA HOLDS OPENING SESSION TUESDAY

Campbell Union Grammar School P.T. A. had its opening meeting of the year Tuesday, Oct. 5 in the kindergarten room of the school. The pledge of allegiance to the Flag and singing of "America" was first on the day's program.

A report was given by Mrs. John Morley upon the P.T. A. school of instruction held in San Jose on August 31.

The new "block mother" plan was discussed and was accepted as a project of the unit. Red Cross work will also be carried on by the unit, and a Red Cross chairman was appointed.

Under the direction of the music chairman, Mrs. Carl Booker, the group sang, "The More We Get Together" and "God Bless America."

The president made a report on the sixth district meeting held in San Jose on Oct. 5.

Refreshments were served following the meeting with executive board members as the hostesses of the day.

Dave Anderson, formerly in the line-up of the Campbell High school football team, is now a guard on the second team of the Romans of the Los Angeles High school, according to a clipping received from Lt. Comdr. and Mrs. Frank Anderson of Los Angeles.

Don Martin was home from U. C. at Berkeley for an over-Sunday visit with his parents Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Martin.

E. O. Wool, chairman of the county salvage committee has announced the names of men who will direct the scrap harvest as contact men with elementary school districts. Fred Jones of the Jones Service station was named for Moreland, Campbell Union, Campbell and Union districts.

LATIN AMERICA IS SUBJECT OF TALK TO CLUB

An interesting and informative talk on Latin America was enjoyed by members of the Country Woman's club when they met at the club house on Monday afternoon, Oct. 5.

Dr. Marian Reynolds, member of the faculty of the San Jose adult education department and formerly associated with Dr. Herbert C. Bolton of the University of California, gave as her topic, "Our Political Relations with the Latin American Countries."

Dr. Reynolds outlined the history of our relations with these countries and said that the good neighbor policy is one of the great achievements of the Franklin Roosevelt administration. "The crux of the present danger," she said, "lies in Argentina. . . . Because of the beef situation Argentina permits Axis propaganda to spread. . . . Without her cooperation complete hemispheric defense is impossible."

Miss Patricia Matranga of the grammar school faculty sang "Juanita" by Caroline Norton and the old Mexican folk song "La Cucaracha." She was accompanied by Mrs. David Rutheford.

The room was attractively decorated with bowls of zinnias which carried out the Latin American colors of red and yellow.

Mrs. Sue Boyce was in charge of the program and assisting her were Mrs. John Blaine, Mrs. J. B. Collins, Mrs. Donald Page, Mrs. E. I. Price and Mrs. Paul Becker.

Program Is Held For Benefit of Organ Fund

The organ fund of the Congregational church benefited by more than $100 dollars, as the result of the dinner served by the Guild Friday evening and the program which followed.

The dinner elicited many favorable comments and the program numbers a great many more.

Reginald Greenbrook, a master on the pipe organ demonstrated the variety and lovely tones of the organ which under his skilled manipulation is almost a pipe organ.

Mrs. Rex Fuller gave several dramatic readings, some humorous and one with a moving religious appeal.

Dennis Bennett's solos were thoroughly enjoyed, and the appearance of Miss Helen Kalas was hailed with delight, as few Campbellites have had the pleasure of hearing her sing for a long time.

Mrs. Milton (Bud) Bachman underwent an appendectomy at San Jose hospital last evening and according to reports is getting along nicely.

$2000 SET AS LOCAL WAR CHEST BUDGET

The directors of the community council met Tuesday evening and accepted the budget suggested by the committee, but after lengthy consideration voted to adopt a War Chest of $2000, embodying the chest participants and the various war relief groups, which is the common plan being used in most localities.

Officers elected for the year are J. E. Murdock, vice-president to president; Ethan Lanphear, reelected secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. Ralph H. Hyde, vice president and manager of this year's campaign.

In compliance with her request the dates for the solicitation were set to begin yesterday, Oct. 7, and continue to Oct. 20. Mrs. Hyde began active operations and had things well under way on the opening day.

In order to raise this additional budget, to do our share for the war relief agencies, it will be necessary to secure many additional pledges and larger ones from regular subscribers. Every one who possibly can is urged to increase his or her subscription fifty per cent. San Jose is asking that pledges be doubled this year.

The members of the board were reelected including the officers, and Mrs. Ellis Crane, Mrs. Anthony Jurras, Mrs. Clarence Fagalde, Mrs. Edna Smith, Miss Jessie Lewis, William Coupland, Lowell Benson, J. C. Agostinho, Ira Abbott, J. F. Levenberg, Ira Grim, Herbert Shadle, M. E. Purmort, Howard J. Smith, and W. H. Van Dyke. Four new members were added, Dr. G. E. Tutt, Herbert Butts, L. J. Carboni, and Miss Gussie Hintz.

Mrs. Elizabeth Ribble was appointed assistant on the publicity for the San Jose papers, and Mrs. Smith, chairman, for the Campbell Press.

Leaves For Training School

Passing a strenuous physical examination and earning 95 points out of a possible 100 in the I.Q. test, Henry Sanfilippo left Wednesday, Oct. 7, for an officer's training school and points undisclosed.

"Hank" as his friends call him graduated from a high school career as captain of traffic patrol, captain of the school's wrestling team and president of his senior class. He was also employed at the local post office before graduation in 1941 and has been there steadily until now. He was also secretary of the Campbell Volunteer Fire department.

Henry is the second son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Sanfilippo, of the Campbell People's market who has enlisted in the armed forces. Corp. Tony Sanfilippo is now in Florida.

COLUMBUS DAY

When in the morning of October 12, 1942, Columbus planted the standard of Spain on the island of San Salvador, the spark was set off which was to precipitate the greatest colonization movement in history.

The Old World was electrified by the living reality of a great New World teeming, so they thought, with booty and riches to be had for the picking and spreading before the fascinated eyes of all Europe a limitless vista of new lands to be explored, exploited and peopled.

In the wake of Columbus' first fateful voyage of discovery, there came in hot pursuit across the Atlantic a stream of explorers, colonists and ruthless empire builders—Pizarro, forty years later, hewing his way to triumph over the kingdom of the Incas in the towering Andes; Cortes, blazing a bloody trail of conquest in Mexico in 1519; Cabrillo, exploring the coastline of California in 1542; Father Kino, despite great hardships, trekking over the great desert wastes of the southwest. And a few decades later at Jamestown on the mid-Atlantic seaboard, was established the nucleus of those settlements which grew into American states, then into a nation and, as hundreds of thousands of settlers poured westward into the great valley of the Mississippi, pressed over the Rockies and beyond to the Pacific, emerged as a world power.

The New World which took the caravels of Columbus 70 days to reach from Spain is now less than 12 hours from Europe by air. The two thinly peopled continents of the western hemisphere in the 15th century are, in 1942, the home of more than 200 million souls determined that their Western homeland shall remain a New World of opportunity and freedom.

STORY WITH A MORAL

This isn't a war story, but any who have chanced to hear it before know it has a war moral which stands out as clearly as a mountain from the plain.

Said Mrs. A: I think the couple next door were at the Zoo yesterday. I overheard her say something about a trained deer.

Replied Mrs. B.: My dear, forgive me for saying it, but your hearing just isn't what it should be. They were talking about a trip, and I distinctly heard her say, "Find out about the train, dear."

Chimed in Mrs. C.: Well, you may as well know the truth—you're both wrong! I was right near them at the time. They were discussing music, and I'm positive I heard her speak of a trained ear.

Just at this moment there appeared the lady whose remark had been subjected to this rumor-mangling. She announced: "To set your minds at rest, you may as well know that I had just come back from the country and was asking my husband if it had rained here last night."

Not all rumors, unfortunately, are thus nipped in the bud. Not all rumors, equally unfortunately, are this harmless. War-time rumor-bearing can destroy lives and imperil military operations.

Let's not be guilty of bearing false witness against the armed forces!

THE BOOK
MARK

by marty

"Get Thee Behind Me," by Hartzell Spence.

With "One Foot In Heaven" so fresh in our memories, the author comes forth with another sure - success. This time he writes about his life as a preacher's son.

"Normal adolescence in other children was deviltry in us. Had we been the rankest of sissies, against the parsonage background we should still have appeared as imps of Satan. Often we resorted to the command in Matthew, "Get thee behind me, Satan," and even then we weren't safe. Someone in the church was sure to spot him over our shoulders." Through many a trial and tribulation, common only to boys in their teen age, Hartzell takes the reader. The things that happened to him were not unusual occurrences—they happened also to millions of other boys of his age—but being a minister's son marked them as out of the ordinary.

No scrape that he found himself in ever marred his character—on the contrary he was benefited. His father was a stern father as he was a strict religious man. His heart was set on Hartzell studying for the ministry. How-

DEL MUTOLO'S
POINTED OUT

"An ability and desire to aid the farmers of California," is credited to Assemblyman M. C. Del Muto, candidate for the State senate, in a statement by W. J. Cecil, director of the State department of agriculture.

Cecil's statements in behalf of Del Muto follow:

"This is to wish you every success in your campaign for the vacant seat in the State senate from Santa Clara County. Aided Farmers

"In your two terms as assemblyman you have shown an ability and a desire to aid the farmers of California. You supported legislation to assist them in marketing their crops co-operatively, and helped the passage of the mortgage moratorium laws. You believed in low-cost money and tried to make it the permanent concern of the State that farm loans be available at lowest possible interest rates.

"In this hour of peril every facility of government should be extended to the farmers to permit them to contribute their full share to the immediate task of winning the war. You have shown a lively interest in farm legislation and a firm conviction that the farmer is the backbone of our society. This is as it should be, for upon the farmer rests an appreciable part of the burden of winning this war."

ever, when he was eventually convinced that Hartzell was not going to be a preacher, he accepted the decision gracefully.

Hartzell had an older sister, Eileen, and a younger brother, Frasher, whom he featured in his life story quite prominently. They influence to a very great extent through his adolescence. The commendable element of the book is the sincerity and honesty of the author. Sparing himself none, he writes at length about his first love affairs—how he coped with them, and how he struggled along alone to work things out and understand himself. Always in the "shadows," though, his father waited for him, and he knew his father would see him through any and all situations.

There is hilarious fun, tragic situations, compelling circumstances and suspense a

Scrap Drive Gets Under Way at High School

by Carol Weeks

"Bring your weight in Scrap" was the slogan adopted this week at Campbell Union High school as the student scrap drive got under way.

At an assembly Tuesday morning Jane Gerrans, chairman of the drive urged students to collect from friends, neighbors and their own families as much as possible of iron, steel, rubber, copper, brass, bronze, aluminum, zinc, lead, and old rags. Paper, bottles, and galvanized iron are not wanted at this time, she reported.

Scrap should be brought to the school and left at the bus area, and anyone locating salvage material too heavy to bring by bus or car may turn in the address where the material is and it will be picked up by school trucks.

Dan Clark, student body president, outlined the national program of salvage when he opened Tuesday's meeting, and Principal Willard H. Van Dyke spoke to the students, pointing out the fact that many of the boys are sacrificing their lives for the cause. "Surely," he said, "bringing scrap—all you can collect—is not asking a great deal of those of us who are at home."

Members of the salvage committee at the high school are Jane Gerrans, Lois Magnuson, Ernestine Fahler, Alfred Hansen and Gene Smith.

The FARMERS CORNER

by RALPH H. TAYLOR

Executive Secretary
Agricultural Council of California

In the midst of a desperate war to save our country from being over-run and despoiled by wanton aggressors, with not only our American way of life at issue, but with the liberty of most of the civilized world hanging in the balance, the United States needs more than strength of arms—more than tanks and flying fortresses; more than all-out production from its farms and factories.

We, the people of the United States, have a very real need for the deep, abiding faith, and the strong religious convictions of our American forefathers; we have need to reconsecrate ourselves to the principles of right and decency—of truth and consideration for the rights of others—which have made America the citadel of human liberty.

Therefore, this writer believes it is within his province, even though this column is generally restricted to a discussion of farm problems, to urge the farm people of California to participate, earnestly and reverently, in the observance of the second annual Bible Week, which will begin the second Monday in October.

The desire for religious freedom gave birth to America—and out of religious faith today must come the courage and the ever-growing drive to save America. The Bible came to this country with the Pilgrim Fathers—and the Bible today is still a constant source of strength and comfort during times of stress and uncertainty in millions of homes throughout America.

Particularly is this true in the farmhouses of the nation, for the farm family has stayed closer, perhaps, to old truths and the standards of early Americanism than any other group in the country. Cynicism and superficial standards do not thrive on the farm, for God's handiwork is ever present, in the life that springs from the earth and in all the unsolved mysteries of growing things. On the most modern farm, the Bible is still the most up-to-date textbook—the Book that contains the answers to questions which the farm adviser, the college of agriculture and the technicians can't cope with—questions which reach down to the mystery of life itself, and the significance of our every-day existence.

During recent weeks, newspapers and magazines have given widespread reproduction to a significant painting by Howard Chandler Christy calling public attention to this year's approaching observance of Bible Week.

This famous artist has pictured the figure of Uncle Sam, kneeling in prayer on a mountain above blazing battlefields, a shining light from Heaven upon the upturned face, saying "For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, forever!" And beneath the picture are the inspiring words: "Give us the faith and courage of our forefathers!"

War, in itself, is a barbarous thing—the negation of re-

SOMEONE'S LIFE IS IN YOUR HANDS!

ROUND up your scrap metal—it's needed to make steel. Steel for armor plate to protect him from bombs and bullets. Steel for weapons to help him do the job that must be done before he can come home again.

You don't want production figures. It's enough to know that 50% of all new steel is made of scrap—that our steel mills now have only enough scrap in sight to last another 30 days at the most!

What happens after that depends on all of us. If production fails and you've not done your part, will you rest easy?

Next week we're starting a collection drive—to build the biggest stockpile of scrap metal you've ever seen. Then when the mills need it, we'll have it—because you came through... for his sake!

ligion and every Biblical precept, unless it be a war in defense of human liberty and Christian principles.

It would be sheer sacrilege to picture Uncle Sam praying for victory, if we were engaged in a war of conquest—a war for territory or material advantage. But America is not fighting a war of possession; America is fighting that each man may have the right to worship as he sees fit; that human liberty and the dignity of man shall be respected; that no man shall be made the slave of another.

As we commemorate Bible Week this year, we need to reconsecrate ourselves to those principles—and as we go about our daily work, we need to put the Golden Rule into practical operation more frequently, so that we shall be worthy of the sacrifices of not only our forefathers, but of our sons and brothers who are dying that we may live and work and worship as free men.

RIGHT NOW is a good time to check up on the gas heating devices in your home. If repair is needed—do it at once. Usually, however, a good cleaning to remove dust and rust is enough. See examples below:

- 1 Take off the grill on your wall register or floor furnace. Have a cardboard carton handy and go to work with a brush or vacuum cleaner. A pancake turner can serve to lift out heavy dirt.
- 2 Is yours a forced-air furnace? Then take out filter pads. Give them a good cleaning or replace with new pads. Each fall have a heating dealer check over the furnace, fan, motor, controls and pilot light.
- 3 Take a look at the vent pipe that connects your heater and other gas equipment to the flue. If it is rusted out—have it replaced now.
- 4 Watch room temperature and save gas. Overheating your home isn't healthy anyway. If your fireplace has a damper—close it when the gas heat is on. It's good economy.

Gas Heating devices are built to give long years of service. Rust and dust are their worst enemies. With a little care now and then they will see you through the duration.
